DEDICATION

She is "Mom A." to the friends in her dorm.
To the friends who sit in her classes
she is, of course, "Mrs. Altmiller".

No matter --
she is dear to all of us.
What more need be said?
For this is after all the reason --
spiritually inductive
if you will --
that we dedicate to her
this 1964 Rainier Vista.

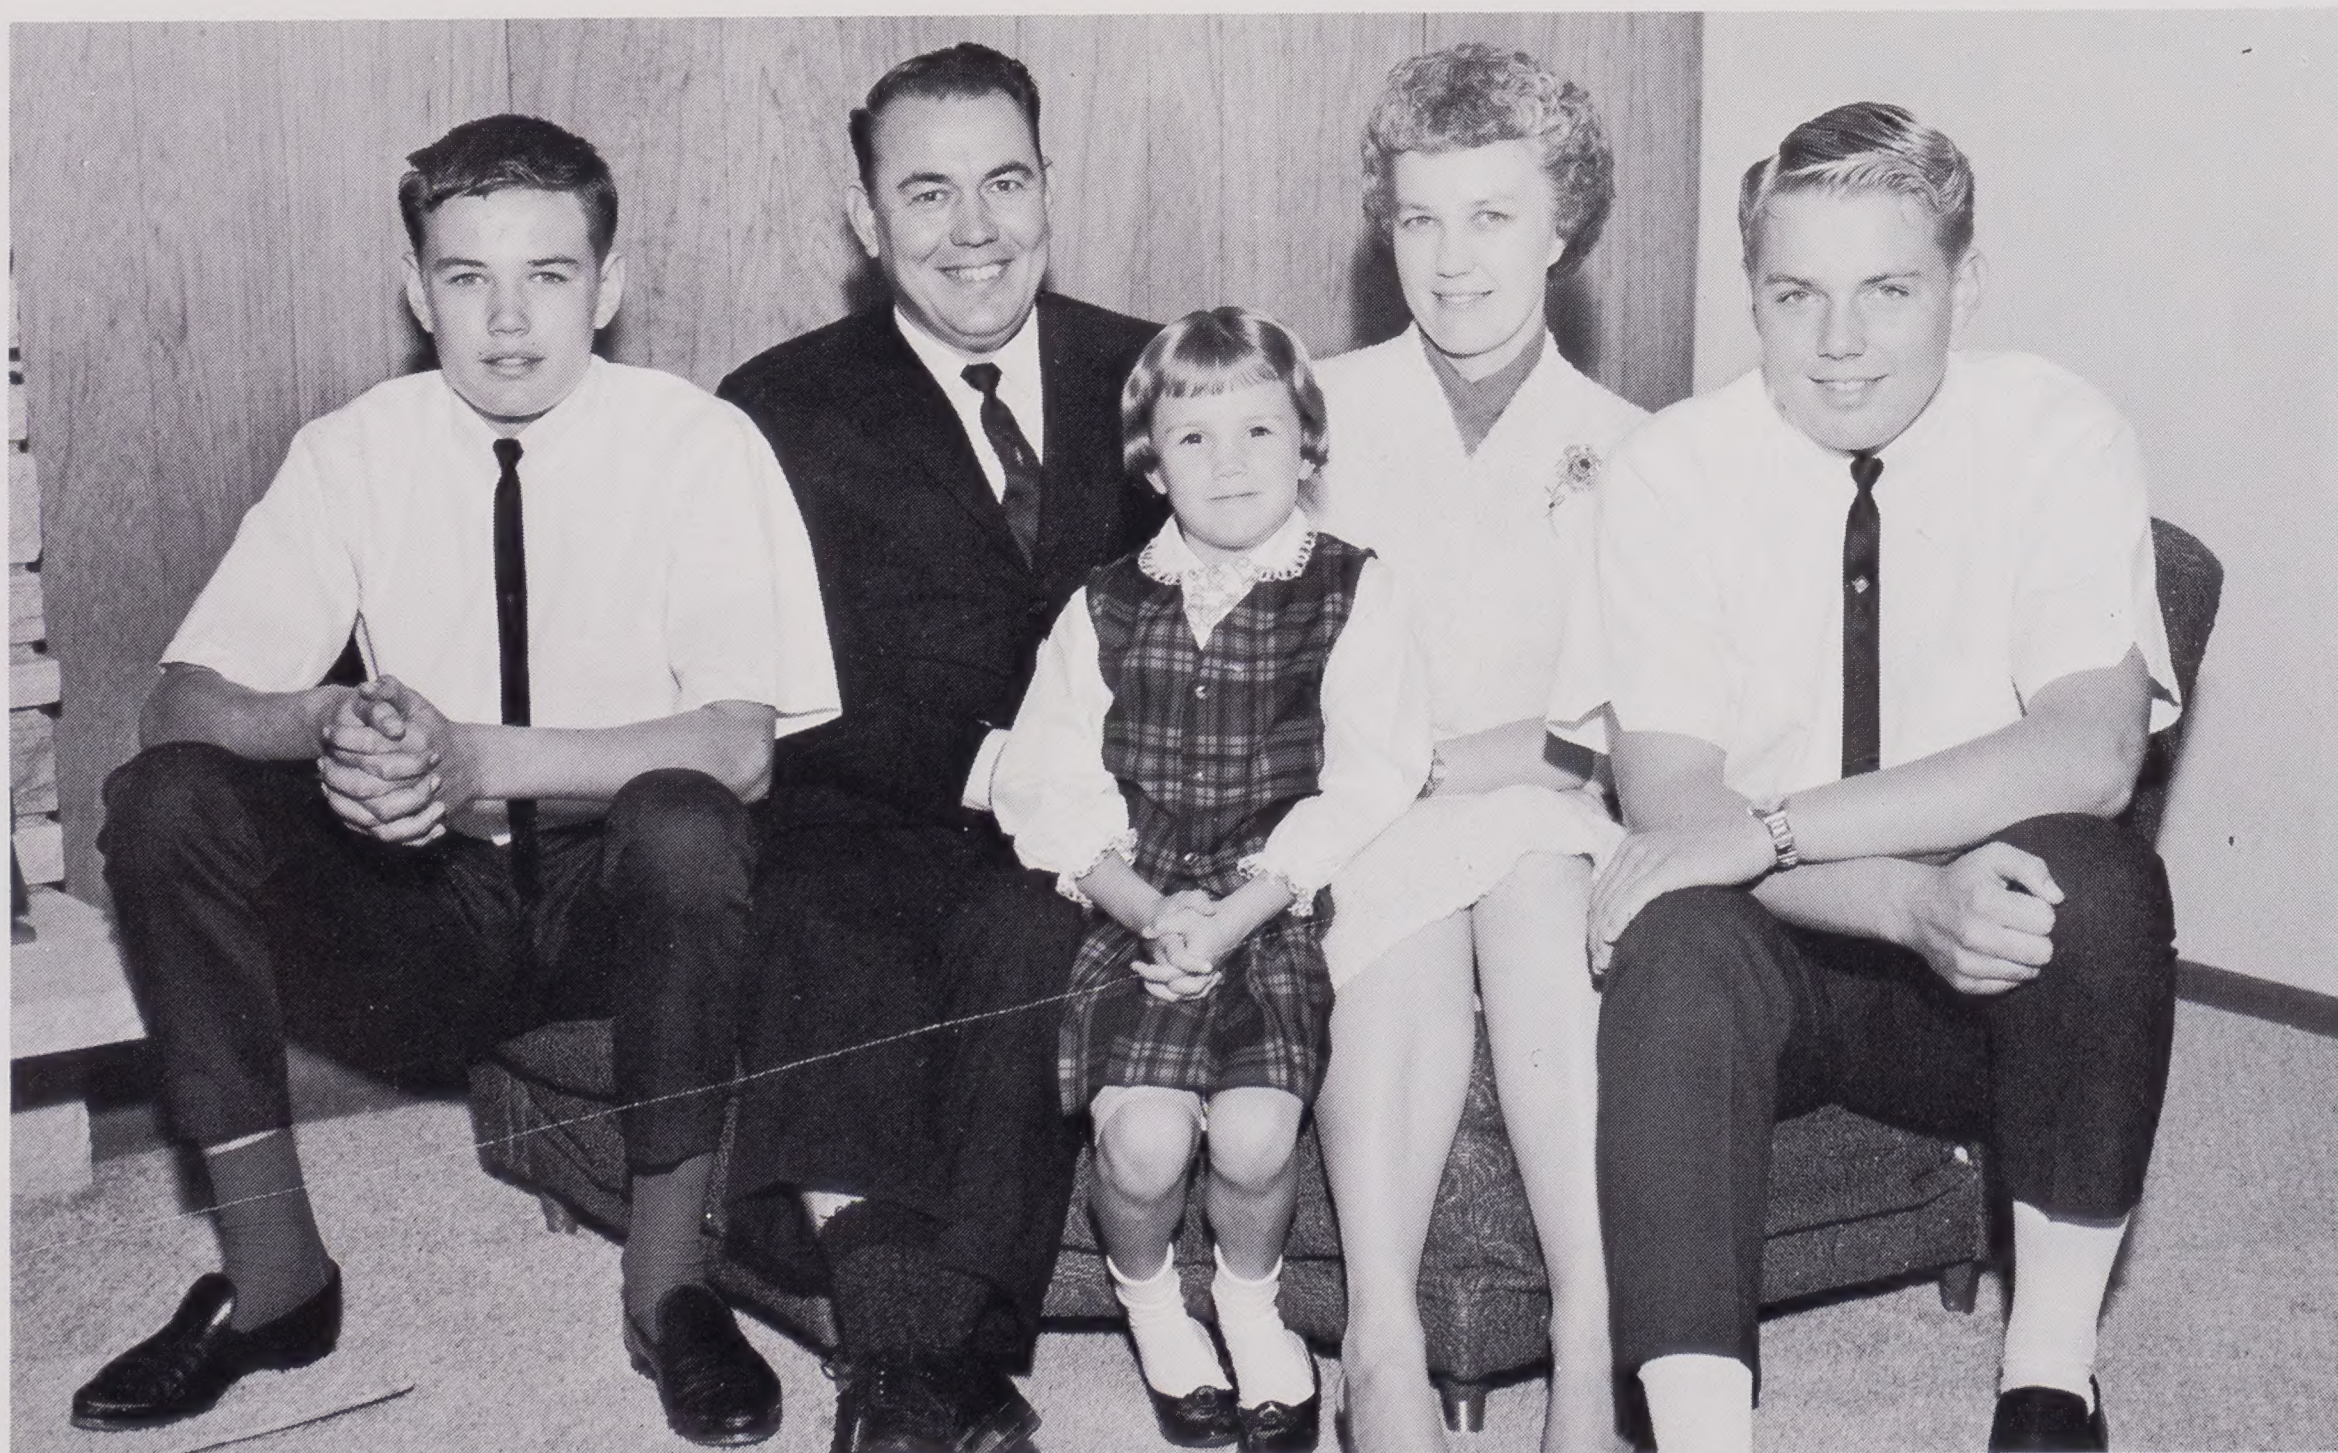

As well as supervising the remodeling of South Hall, Elder L. E. McClain, principal, has capably led out in other rebuilding projects on the campus.

As he sometimes reminds the students in chapel, "It's not the school that counts, it's the principle of the thing." With an obvious double meaning of "principle" in mind, he speaks more truth than he realizes. As Auburn Academy's principal he fulfills his duties admirably and is truly a principal who is admired for the principles he upholds.

His leisure hours, though rare, are spent at home with his family, his wife Edith, Don, 14, Dixie, 5, and Dick, 16.

MRS. LEONA ALTMILLER - Dean of Girls,
Shorthand, Bookkeeping
MISS FRANCES McKNIGHT - Associate Dean of Girls, English

South Hall, during the summer months was completely remodeled and is now fondly referred to as the "new" girls' dorm--it

Gibson Hall is home, sweet home to several kittens as well as some forty-five freshman and sophomore girls.

The boys' dorm, as yet
unnamed, is the residence

really isn't the southernmost building anymore.

The friendly old Ad Building is getting along in years, but it still cordially receives the serious and not-so-serious students as, every day, they rush through its halls.

As one enters the school store, he is greeted by Mrs. Barbara Leadbetter's smiling face and her query, "May I help you?" Of course she "may help you"--to anything from school books to cookies!

Rudolph Hall with its roomy dining room and modern kitchen is a recent addition to the campus.

“MAKING THEIR LIVES A PRAYER”

—John G. Whittier

“NAUGHT BUT GOD CAN SATISFY THE SOUL”

—P. J. Bailey

CLASS PRAYER BANDS

A restful pause at the end of a busy week to commune with the Master and rededicate lives and hearts to him.

CHRISTMAS CAROLING

Rainy or cold, calm or stormy, Christmas Caroling is enjoyed by everyone as their voices spread holiday cheer and good-will.

WORSHIP THROUGH MUSIC

Whether for quiet meditation or singing, the organ adds its mellow tones to the worship services.

MASTER GUIDES

Master Guide secretary, Lois Armstead, inspires many other students to follow in her footsteps and become invested as Master Guides.

STUDENT WEEK OF PRAYER

The student speakers found that preparing and giving these talks for this week of prayer was an invaluable experience, and the entire student body gained a blessing from it.

BIBLE WRITING

As a project for first semester, the MV society had the task of writing by hand the books of John and Acts. These, with the other pages written by other

North Pacific Union MV's will be included in the handwritten Bible to be displayed at the 1965 Youth's Congress.

South Hall residents find their newly-furnished, divided parlor a comfortable place to relax and fellowship with friends or family.

GIRLS' DORM HOUSING

The residents of Gibson Hall enjoy the homelike, comfortable surroundings in their parlor, including the recently-acquired organ.

The girls take much pride in their rooms, and much thought and planning goes into their "home-decorating" schemes.

Monitoring in the boy's dorm is a pleasure, when one is assisted by an "inter-com" and public address system.

Although they can't rearrange the furniture, as can the girls, the boys show much individualism in their room furnishings.

BOYS' DORM HOUSING

The boys' dorm parlor creates a congenial and cheerful atmosphere in which to meet guests and associate with friends.

IN MEMORY

The Flame

Into the dust
Along the rugged trail of greatness,
The path to heights unscaled,
The road of dreams,
Of truths unborn,
--Into the dust, from his firm grasp
It fell that fateful day
--The Torch.

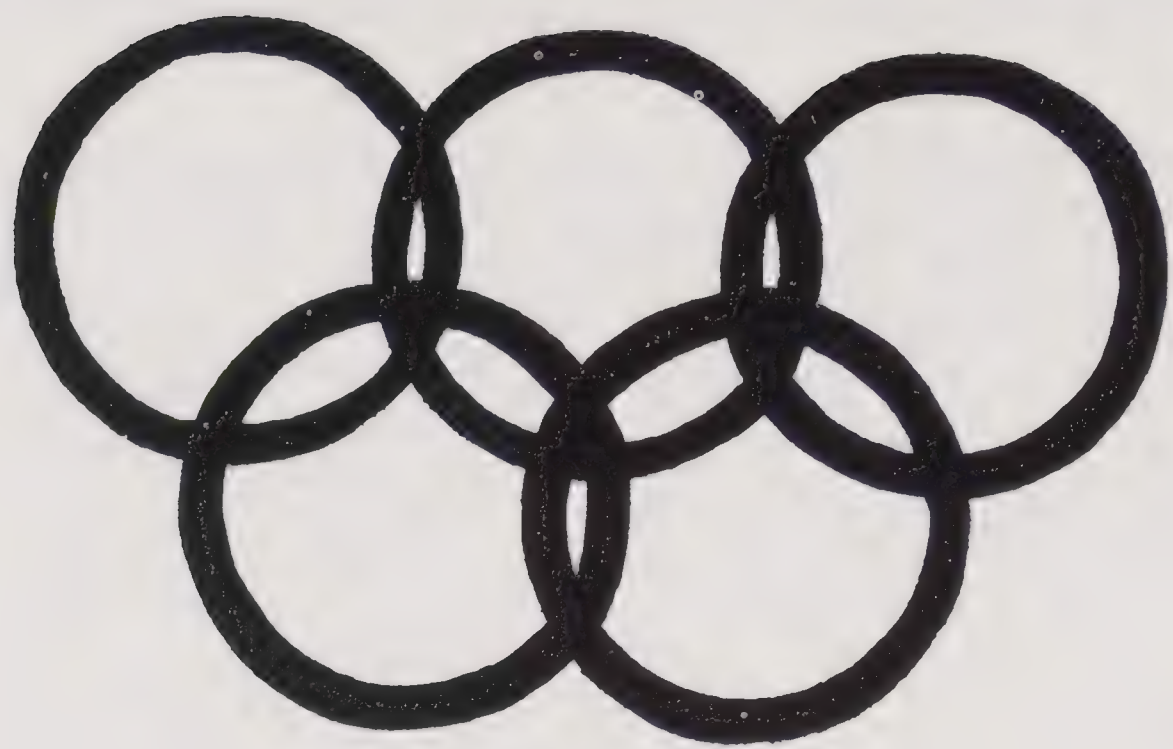

But everywhere
As there upon his tomb,
A Light burns on.
Piercing the shadows of distrust
And fear,
Lighting the path to bolder, greater tasks,
It etches the bold forbidding peaks
Of Tomorrow's challenge.

Yes, deep in our hearts
It glows in warm and living light
--The Flame!

KENNETH STURDEVANT	Puyallup, Washington

Under the direction of the Board of Trustees, Auburn Academy has taken on a new look. They have spent many hours pouring over plans and blueprints and as a result the boys are enjoying a new 88 room dormitory, the girls are proud of the redesigned South Hall, and all the students are eating in luxury in the modern cafeteria, Rudolph Hall.

The Board is now looking into the future with plans for a much needed administration building and church.

The students of Auburn Academy wish to express their appreciation for the part the Board of Trustees has taken in helping them obtain the ultimate in the education of the HEAD, HEART, and HAND.

To those who have made the 1964 RAINIER VISTA possible through their time and cooperation--thank you.

It is the desire of each member of the annual staff that you enjoy this 1964 RAINIER VISTA as much as we have enjoyed working and planning together for it, and that it will be a pleasurable remembrance of this school year.
